FROM ANXIETY TO AFTERPARTIES: AUGUST IN REVIEW

August is coming to an end, highlighting how quickly time passes and how the summer has almost come to an end. At the start of summer we had the inauguration of our executives and then we had the result anxiety, which lasted for a little while but it is believed that the students have made peace with their results.

This month was also filled with thrilling takeovers on our Snapchat account, which some are tagging "the takeover madness"

With the likes of Jasmine, who took us to the skate rink and showed us how to keep it rolling, Mide who took us to the gym and also an after party showcasing Lagos nightlife.

Dj Philz who showed us what it means to be the life of the party, Adrian, David Swiss as well, and many more.

TENSION, THRILLS & A TASTE OF WHAT'S COMING

In addition, there was the thrill and tension of room allocation. Many tried but it was survival of the fittest to get the best rooms. Along side that, our dinner theme was released and it gave us an insight on what to expect—more on that later on.

Furthermore, on the 23rd of August we hosted our first official webinar, which was A huge success. It was anchored by Engr ABBAS SHUAIBU USMAN who talked to us about ways of Navigating Internships that align with your purpose. It was very engaging and insightful, if you missed it you have to be there for the next webinar, because the reformation administration doesn't miss!

WRAPPING UP AUGUST

As August ends, it serves as a reminder that time waits for no one— as some of the students round up their internships. Some goals have been met, others adjusted, and some postponed, but the key is to keep moving forward.

ABUAD ON TOP

ABUAD's triumph at the NPUGA is something to be studied, with our athletes achieving feats across different categories.

One of our very own, Adeyemi Smart, a 500 level Mechanical Engineering student is an exceptional athlete. Coming in with a total of 6 medals, including gold in discus, 100m male, javelin and more.

We also have Muppy, an equally outstanding 500 level Computer Engineering student, who boasts 5 medals to his name.

Truly, engineering boys no dey carry last.

UNI GOSSIP

Some sources stated that the federal government wants to implement compulsory drug tests for all university students, this won't be a problem for most private universities as it is a normal policy but public universities students seem to be against this particular development.

Also, some alumni students made it known that they hadn't received their ITF since they interned so Godspeed to our current 400level engineering interns.

ABUAD Emerges Best Overall University at NPUGA 2025

In addition, ABUAD's basketball team secured a silver medal in the tournament, alongside our football team getting to the quarterfinals, our volleyball and table tennis team did amazing as well – placing us on the radar as the school to beat in most sports, and the overall best private university in all of Nigeria.
